

LEE
DIVALERIO
NFS SCOUT

NFL Experience: 6th Year (6th with Eagles)
College: Villanova Hometown: Aston, PA

SUPER BOWL CHAMPION: 2017 (LII)

Lee DiValerio, who enters his sixth season as a member of the Philadelphia Eagles’ scouting department, was promoted to NFS scout during the 2020 offseason. In his role, DiValerio travels to various colleges to identify and evaluate prospective players for the NFL Draft.

DiValerio originally joined the Eagles’ front office as a player personnel intern in 2017 and was hired as a scouting assistant in 2018.

DiValerio attended Villanova University, where he earned a bachelor’s degree in economics. While in college, DiValerio worked as a student assistant with Villanova’s football team.

A native of Aston, PA, DiValerio attended Sun Valley High School, where he played varsity football and lacrosse.

CAREER TIMELINE
Years	Team	Position
2020-	Philadelphia Eagles	NFS Scout
2018-20	Philadelphia Eagles	Scouting Assistant
2017-18	Philadelphia Eagles	Player Personnel Intern