

ALEC HALABY

V.P. OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS AND STRATEGY

NFL Experience: 14th Year (14th with Eagles)
College: Harvard Hometown: Madison, WI

Super Bowl Champion: 2017 (LII)

Alec Halaby is entering his 14th season with the Philadelphia Eagles’ front office. He was named the team’s vice president of football operations and strategy during the 2016 offseason after serving as a special assistant to the general manager from 2012-15.

Halaby focuses on player evaluation, roster management and resource allocation, with a particular emphasis on integrating traditional and analytical methods in football decision-making.

Halaby began his career as an intern with the Eagles’ football operations department in 2007 and 2009. He was then promoted to the position of player personnel analyst in 2010.

A native of Madison, WI, Halaby graduated from Harvard in 2009.

CAREER TIMELINE
Years	Team	Position
2016-	Philadelphia Eagles	V.P. of Football Ops & Strategy
2012-15	Philadelphia Eagles	Special Assistant to the G.M.
2010-11	Philadelphia Eagles	Player Personnel Analyst
2007, '09	Philadelphia Eagles	Football Operations Intern