

AMEENA SOLIMAN

DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS/PRO SCOUT

NFL Experience: 9th Year (9th with Eagles)
College: Temple Hometown: Yardley, PA

SUPER BOWL CHAMPION: 2024 (LIX)

Ameena Soliman was named director of football operations/pro scout by the Philadelphia Eagles during the 2024 offseason. Overall, she enters her ninth season working for the organization’s player evaluation staff.

Soliman has worked as a pro scout for the Eagles dating back to the 2021 campaign. In 2022, she added the title and responsibilities of director of personnel operations before being named to her current post. Furthermore, she served as a player personnel coordinator from 2019-20 after originally joining the team as a player personnel intern during the 2018 season.

During her time in Philadelphia, Soliman has contributed to two Super Bowl appearances (LVII and LIX), including defeating Kansas City, 40-22, in Super Bowl LIX.

In 2020, Soliman was named a Scott Pioli & Family Fund recipient. The annual grant aims to promote the development, education and training of aspiring female football coaches and scouts who are pursuing careers in collegiate or professional football.

Prior to joining the Eagles, Soliman worked as a player personnel assistant with the NFL league office from 2017-18. In addition, Soliman served as a football operations and recruiting graduate assistant with Temple University during the 2017 season.

A native of Yardley, PA, Soliman graduated Summa Cum Laude with an undergraduate degree in finance and marketing and also earned a master’s degree in sports business from Temple.
