

JON FERRARI
ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

NFL Experience: 20th Year (11th with Eagles)
 College: Franklin & Marshall Hometown: Yardley, PA

SUPER BOWL CHAMPION: 2017 (LII), 2024 (LIX)

Jon Ferrari, who enters his 20th year working in the NFL and 11th as a member of the Philadelphia Eagles, was elevated by the team to assistant general manager during the 2022 offseason.

Previously, Ferrari served as the Eagles’ vice president of football operations and compliance for more than three years (2019-22). He additionally earned titles as the organization’s director of football operations (2018-19) and director of football compliance (2017-18) after originally being hired by Philadelphia as the manager of football compliance in 2016.

Prior to joining the Eagles, Ferrari spent time at the league office from 2007-16. He supported the NFL Management Council and spent the final six years as the manager of labor operations. Ferrari also oversaw the administration of the Bill Walsh NFL Minority Coaching Fellowship program.

Ferrari completed his undergraduate education at Franklin & Marshall College in 2000. He and his wife, Leslie, have a son, Will.

CAREER TIMELINE
Years	Team	Position
2022-	Philadelphia Eagles	Assistant General Manager
2019-22	Philadelphia Eagles	V.P. of Football Ops & Compliance
2018-19	Philadelphia Eagles	Director of Football Operations
2017-18	Philadelphia Eagles	Director of Football Compliance
2016-17	Philadelphia Eagles	Manager of Football Compliance
2007-16	NFL League Office	NFL Mgmt. Council; Labor Operations