

PAUL LANCASTER

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER ENGAGEMENT

NFL Experience: 21st Year (5th with Eagles)

College: California University of PA Hometown: Brownsville, PA

Super Bowl Champion: 2017 (LII)

Paul Lancaster enters his 21st overall season working in the NFL. He was hired by the Philadelphia Eagles as the team's director of player engagement during the 2017 offseason.

In his position, Lancaster serves as a mentor and resource for all Eagles players off the field. He is responsible for building and maintaining relationships and promoting high standards of professionalism to help ensure success during and beyond players' NFL careers. In addition, Lancaster facilitates player participation in both league- and club-supported education and development initiatives.

Lancaster previously spent 16 seasons with the Buffalo Bills as the director of player programs. He also worked at Penn State University and California University of Pennsylvania.

A native of Brownsville, PA, Lancaster earned his bachelor's degree in psychology and master's degree in counseling from California (PA), where he also played basketball.

CAREER TIMELINE

Years	Team	Position
2017-	Philadelphia Eagles	Director of Player Engagement
2001-17	Buffalo Bills	Director of Player Programs