DAVID
CHIEF OF STAFF TO THE GENERAL MANAGER

NFL Experience: 19th Year (19th with Eagles)
College: SUNY Cortland Hometown: Buffalo, NY

SUPER BOWL CHAMPION: 2017 (LII), 2024 (LIX)

Katie David enters her 19th overall season with the Philadelphia Eagles’ football operations department. She was promoted to chief of staff to the general manager during the 2024 offseason.

In her role, David works with all facets of the football operations department while assisting Executive Vice President/General Manager Howie Roseman on a day-to-day basis.

David originally joined Philadelphia’s front office as a player personnel assistant in 2008 and was elevated to personnel executive assistant in 2010. In 2015, David served as the executive assistant to the vice president of football operations and then worked as the team’s football operations coordinator from 2016-18. Before she was named to current position, David was the football operations director during the 2019-23 seasons.

Prior to the Eagles, David was a football operations intern with NFL Europe’s Cologne Centurions (Cologne, Germany) in 2007.

A native of Buffalo, NY, David graduated from SUNY Cortland with a degree in sport management. David’s husband, Kory, is the head football coach at Catholic University.
